ADAMS COUNTY APPLES WIN FIRST PRIZE

Adams County's apples Sunday won first place in the Farm Show competition at Harrisburg for the third consecutive year.

It was at least the 12th time that the apple display entered by the Adams County Fruitgrowers Association has won the top honor in the state.

While never out of the placings, the county exhibit had had a succession of second and third places for a number of years before securing the first place honor in 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Before that it won first place five times in seven years in the 1940s and four first places in six years in the 1930s.

Approximately 20 growers took part in the selection of the exhibit Friday at the Bendersville Firemen's Community Hall. The countians were sure they "had a good one" when they finished the display, and were anticipating that it would rank high in the listing.

Snyder County's display was second, Erie third, Lehigh fourth, Franklin County, which for many years had come out first with Adams second, was fifth and Lancaster, sixth.

The victory by the county apple display highlights participation by numerous countians in the Farm Show this week at Harrisburg.

At least five countians, all 4-H Club members, will be entered in a brand new contest based on entomology displays at the farm show. For the first such contest, 17 counties will be taking part. Paul Middour, York Springs and Andrew Zettle, Gettysburg R. D. have a display in Class 4; James Rohrbach, Littlestown R. D. in Class 3; John Lott, Aspers, in Class 2 and Kent Middour, York Springs in Class 1.

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP)—Five men were killed today when fired roared through the 163-year-old Central Hotel.

Twenty-six other guests were in the three-story, wooden building. Some fled in their night clothes. Some leaped to safety, others were carried from the building. Five were injured.

The dead were identified as Joseph Ivan, about 80; James Keating, 70; Paul Snyder, 65; Frank Hartman, 72; and Andrew Lenart, 58.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford, for Mrs. Susanne "Sue" (Baker) Berkeimer, 74, East Berlin R. 2, who was fatally injured Saturday evening at 6 o'clock as she crossed the Hanover-Abbottstown Rd., near Abbottstown, to purchase apples at the Nunda Fruit Farm.

The first countian to be killed in an auto accident in 1963, she was struck, according to state police, by a southbound car operated by Charles M. Fultz, 21, Belleville, a linotype operator at the Lewistown Sentinel.

Fultz, a deaf mute, told police through sign language interpreter John E. Flickinger, of Hanover, that he had been enroute to Hanover to visit a friend when the accident occurred. He said he came over the crest of a hill at the fruit farm owned by Stuart Lucabaugh, to discover Mrs. Berkeimer, dressed in dark clothing, directly in front of his car. He said he could not avoid hitting her.

DEAD ON ARRIVAL

Mrs. Berkeimer, her husband, John Berkeimer, and daughter, Miss Rosalie Berkeimer, had been shopping in Hanover. Enroute home Miss Berkeimer, who was driving, pulled the car off the east side of the road and stopped to permit her mother to go across to the fruit stand to purchase some apples.

Mrs. Berkeimer had crossed to the southbound lane of the highway when she was struck by the auto.

London Papers Say British Jets Eluded U.S. Defenses In Mock Attack Last Fall

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—London newspapers said today swift British jets slipped past U.S. defenses recently in a mock H-bomb attack that could have wiped out major cities, including New York, Washington, Chicago and Los Angeles. U.S. and British officials denied the report.

Four British newspapers said the exercise was carried out by four Vulcan bombers about two months ago. The bombers fly up to 600 miles an hour.

A spokesman for the North American Defense Command in the United States termed the report a lot of nonsense.

OFFICIAL DENIALS

The British Air Ministry first said an exercise took place about two months ago but declined to say whether it was a success. Then, after some apparent confusion, the ministry came around to the official American version.

"Reports referring to an exercise a couple of months ago are wrong," an Air Ministry spokesman said.

"The last occasion on which we took part in an exercise of this kind was in an operation referred to as Skyshield II, about Oct. 14, 1961. That exercise was a joint operation designed to test defenses."

The spokesman declined to comment when asked if British bombers penetrated North America's radar network in the 1961 exercise.

The newspaper claims contained several important strategic implications, particularly that the manned bomber has many more years of useful life as a nuclear (Continued On Page 3)

PLANK PLACED ON PROBATION IN SHOOTING

Glenn Maurice Plank, 18, Gettysburg R. 5, was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation by the Adams County court this morning on charges of pointing and discharging a firearm and aggravated assault and battery brought against the Gettysburg High School Senior by his father after the youth had fired a shotgun and five pellets struck the father in the legs.

In imposing the sentence, the court noted that the father's attitude toward the children over the years was partially to blame. Judge W. C. Sheely told the father, "I'm surprised there has not been trouble with the other children over the years. You could have avoided this by taking the proper approach to your children."

At the same time, the court said that it was not excusing the son: "Nobody has a right to use a gun against anyone. You could have caused your father's death and you do have a responsibility to obey your parents."

WORK OUT ARRANGEMENT

The parents and son seemed to agree to an arrangement whereby the son will obey the mother's commands and stay out of any disagreements between mother and father. He was told that if he has any problems, he is report to Probation Officer D. M. Anderson since one of the conditions of his year's probation is that he stay out of all conflict with his father.

Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, representing the youth, said the boy has been an honor student at the high school here. The third youngest of nine children, in addition to school he works at the Majestic Theater here and at Penn Dairies filling in hours after school and on Saturdays and Sundays.

On the morning of the shooting, according to the testimony before the court, the youth was about (Continued On Page 2)

PRAYER WEEK OPENS TUESDAY IN FAIRFIELD

The Fairfield Community Week of Prayer will open Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Zion Lutheran Church with the Rev. Dr. Roswell W. Lyon, pastor of Sarah Johnson Memorial Methodist Church, Johnson City, N.Y., as the guest speaker for the week. Services will be held each evening.

"To many, prayer is a kind of spare tire to be used when others have failed. Prayer for many is only a way to try to satisfy their needs. Some of us are as much go-getters when we pray as we are in our workaday lives."

"Popular praying is mainly begging," he said but added: "Prayer must always be an affirmative seeking to appropriate the inexhaustible resources of God."

Noting that "prayer has been one of the most perilous things great souls have been privileged to engage in," Dr. Fox cited Jeremiah and Jesus as examples of persons who had "prayed dangerously." He continued: "Jesus might have escaped crucifixion if He had hedged a little but instead He went into the garden to pray and went on to Calvary. Great servants of God often have been on their knees in prayer and then have gone on to the sacrifices required of them."

He concluded by urging such praying upon the people of this nation in facing and finding solutions to the great national problems.

ices will be held each evening, except Saturday, through Sunday. Clergymen from the area will lead the worship services and special music will be provided by the various churches in the community.

A "Coffee Klatch" Will Be Held

In Zion Lutheran Church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock by the women of the community churches for Dr. Lyon. Rev. Alfred Gotwald, pastor of the Orttanna EUB Church, will preside at the affair.

"PRAY DANGEROUSLY"

Noting that prayer "was a very vital force for Jesus," Dr. Fox urged his hearers to "pray receptively, affirmatively and dangerously."

"To many, prayer is a kind of spare tire to be used when others have failed. Prayer for many is only a way to try to satisfy their needs. Some of us are as much go-getters when we pray as we are in our workaday lives."

JURIST STUDY PAPER STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—A board of three jurists starts an investigation today to determine whether the public's interests "are being given due account" in a month-long shutdown of this city's nine major newspapers.

The board was appointed Sunday by Secretary of Labor W. Wirtz, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

A joint announcement by the three said they hoped the board could crystallize public opinion and bring pressure to bear toward settling a printers' strike against four of the dailies. The other five major papers closed down voluntarily when the walk-out began Dec. 8.

The Publishers Association of New York City, representing the nine papers in contract bargaining talks, said its theory is that a strike against one is a strike against all.

In another strike that has shut down the two daily newspapers in Cleveland for 39 days, negotiations involving the Plain Dealer and the Press & News have been recessed.

and the father wanted the high school student's car moved from where he had parked it.

INTENDED TO FRIGHTEN

The youth claimed he did not hear the call for him to get up. The father had another son, Stanley, 15, move the car. Later, when the father returned from Biglerville, according to the attorney, "Glenn felt he was going to get beat and he didn't want to get beat" and the shooting occurred. Attorney Hartman claimed the youth fired into the ground to frighten the father and five pellets struck the father's legs.

The youth said there had been disagreements between him and his father about the high school senior assisting in the father's business. "I saw no future in his business," the youth said, adding that "last summer I did help him."

The testimony indicated the mother is supporting the young man by her work. The court claimed that some years ago the father had decided that if he could not punish the children he had no responsibility for them.

State Farm Show opened its doors to the public today with some 600,000 spectators expected to visit the exposition halls before the five-day event ends for another year.

Gov. Lawrence and invited guests took a pre-show tour of the exposition halls Sunday night, and for the first time in two years, the governor made it through without incident.

During his two-hour tour, his last as chief executive, Lawrence drank milkshakes, chewed on a carrot and held baby lambs and chicks.

CAUTIOUS APPROACH

But he did not fall off a milking stool—as he did two years ago—nor did he have a chicken flap his wings in his face—as he did last year.

Observers noted the governor took a cautious approach to the animals this year.

The governor was accompanied by Agriculture Secretary William Henning, other cabinet members and retired chief justice of the state supreme court, Charles Alvin Jones and Mrs. Jones.

630,000 LAST YEAR

Show officials are hoping for a break in the weather this year. Traditional farm show weather calls for snow storms and biting cold temperatures.

But the crowds come anyway. Last year 630,000 persons made their way through the vast farm show buildings—some 25,000 less than the 1955 record.

There is some $41,200 in cash prizes to be won this year in livestock judging. This, plus other prizes offered by state and farm organizations, make the total cash awards amount to $63,289.

ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM

There will be no carnival-type midway, but show officials have lined up the usual entertainment program for four nights.

Starting with "governor's night" Monday, the series includes square dancing competition Tuesday, horse pulling Wednesday and 4-H and FFA tractor driving contests Thursday night. Auction sale of the grand champion 4-H steer, which also is usually the show grand champion, provides the climax on Friday.

NEW BASILICA IS AGGREGATED

On December 4 the Minor Basilica of Sacred Heart of Jesus at Conewago was officially aggregated to the patriarchal basilica of St. Peter in the Vatican and thereby qualified for all spiritual privileges associated with pilgrimages and visits to St. Peter's.

The Most Rev. Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States, announced last August that Pope John XXIII had declared the Sacred Heart Church of Conewago, near Hanover, a minor basilica. Only 14 other outstanding churches in the United States enjoy this title.

The honor was bestowed upon this church because of its richness in both history and art, the requisites for such an honor.

Conewago has had many happy experiences. Among these was the sesquicentennial of 1937 when Bishop Leech of Harrisburg had presented a pageant and Pontifical Mass with Cardinal Dougherty presiding and 20,000 people in attendance.

On Sunday, September 2, the Most Rev. Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate, celebrated a solemn Pontifical Mass in the church and delivered the address.

At the same time he announced officially the title and honor that the apostolic see had bestowed on this venerable and historic shrine.

The Mass was celebrated in the presence of the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of Harrisburg, in whose diocese the newly created basilica is located. The pastor is the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John P. Bolen.

"THE UNDERDOG"

I've always been for the underdog... I like to see him win... for he is almost always on the outside looking in... true, I respect a winner... they rate a second glance... but I am one who likes to give... the other guy a chance... of course when someone hits the top... they try real hard to stay... and this practice will be so... however rough the way... it's the same in industry or sports... the big shadows, the small... everyone delights to rise... none relishes a fall... yet, I am for the underdog... who strives to make the grade... I suppose it's human nature or... the mold from which I'm made.

the substance of our mortality He restored us by the light of His own immortality.

"The sacrament of confirmation which you are privileged to receive on this great feast of Epiphany has been called the sacrament of Catholic action. Pope Pius XI described Catholic action by stating in his Christmas message of 1922, 'Tell our faithful children of the laity that when united with their pastors and their bishops, they participate in the works of the apostolate, both individual and social, the end purpose of which is to make Jesus Christ better known and better loved, then they are more than ever the chosen generation.'

On another occasion he reminded us that Catholic action is an elementary Christian duty imposed on each person by the sacrament of confirmation. "It is evident that with the sacrament of confirmation today you begin your own Epiphany, the time of the manifestation of Christ to your fellowmen in your own lives, in your homes, in your offices, in the sundry places of your daily pursuits."

Five members of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here were confirmed at the service. They included Mrs. Kenneth Knox, Charles J. Sweitzer, Joan Kuhn, Richard Carey and Michael McCadden.

Vulcans were to have been used to carry the now-scraped Skybolt. They will carry the improved Blue Streak standoff bomb, which is to be the basis of Britain's independent nuclear deterrent until it is equipped with Polaris missiles. The Daily Express, Sketch, Telegraph and Herald all reported the strike.

"Had the attack been real, it would have wiped out several major American cities, including Los Angeles, Chicago and New York," the Herald said.

The Express said it understood the operation succeeded because the Delta-wing Vulcans were so fast and apparently flew at an altitude of about 12 miles.

It said some of the Vulcans were fitted with electronic counter-measures to keep American patrol planes from detecting the strike.

There's room for improvement, but to Andre Gill the night of Jan. 6 likely will be his most memorable.

Gill, filling in for injured goalie Ed Chadwick, made his pro hockey debut a success Sunday night, turning aside 25 shots in a 7-2 Hershey victory over Baltimore that moved the Bears within one point of first-place Quebec in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division.

It was the second triumph in as many nights for the Bears, who defeated Providence 4-2 Saturday night, and left them with 40 points to 41 for Quebec. The Aces, 6-1 losers to Cleveland Saturday, were defeated by Buffalo's Western Division pacesetters Sunday 3-2 in overtime.

In other Sunday games, Providence edged Pittsburgh 3-2 and Springfield and Rochester played to a 6-6 overtime tie.

No Final Victory In Cuba, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the withdrawal of Soviet missiles from Cuba "wasn't any victory for us or a final settlement."

"We've still got Castro and communism," Eisenhower said in a copyright interview with U.S. News and World Report.

In forcing Soviet Premier Khrushchev to remove the missiles, the United States "was just telling this fellow, 'Don't push us any further. We're getting tired of it,'" Eisenhower added.

The former president, interviewed at his office in Gettysburg, Pa., before leaving on a California vacation, said he was delighted to see Khrushchev forced "to move back." The Communists, Eisenhower said, "will try anything, and if they see you are not going to resist, why, they'll just keep on pressing."

SANDBURG IS HONORED ON 85TH BIRTHDAY

By MILES A. SMITH

Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—In Carl Sandburg's own words, it was "a beautifully tumultuous evening."

It was a brilliant literary dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria, celebrating Sandburg's 85th birthday and the publication of his new book of 77 poems, titled "Honey and Salt." It was given by his publishers, Harcourt, Brace & World, with scores of celebrities in attendance.

When Sandburg dropped his short cigar to get up and read the title poem of the new book, he said the occasion was so rare and unforgettable that he could not express his feelings even in a poem.

But he declared the evening's fine remembrances "will help me live a little longer—perhaps a year or so."

He read in a voice that still remains deep and mellow. After an autographing session he remarked that "toward the end I felt like something the cat drug in."

A personal friend since 1927, William O. Douglas, associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, made the first of many speeches and predicted that Sandburg will be remembered as long as Abraham Lincoln. Sandburg's Lincoln biography won one of his two Pulitzer Prizes.

SPEAKS AT DOVER

Former Assemblyman Francis Worley was a speaker at the annual meeting of the Local Government Officials' Association of York County at the Dover fire hall.

Mr. Worley spoke of the United States' role as leading world democracy in the 20th century and spoke of the advantages of home rule of which, he said, "I have always been a strong advocate." He said it was his stand on home rule that led him to vote against the state school reorganization bill at the last session of the state Legislature.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Another Scar: On Friday

last our town and the region between this and the mountain were no little excited by reports of "the rebels coming." Nearly everybody's horses were hurried off to places of supposed greater security, scores passing through town eastward. Though nobody had seen the rebels, persons came in who said they had held conversations with others who had. The non-arrival of the Chambersburg stage lent some color to the various rumors. In a few hours, however, the excitement died away and the conclusion was come to that the rebels were still on the other side of the Potomac. It seems that the report was started about Grafenbourg by several fellows from Quincy who imposed the "sell" on every one they met. If there is punishment for such outrageous doings, these miscreants should have it dealt out to them in its fullest force. We would, too, advise all to exercise a reasonable degree of discretion to giving currency to the flying reports that may reach them. Much unnecessary alarm and annoyance might thus be avoided.

The Battle At Fredericksburg:

The Rebel Generals Lee and Longstreet, in conversation with our officers, who went over to bury the dead, say that the bravery and skill of our men "were wonderful and unequalled in history," but that no force, however great, could have taken their strongholds.

The fulmination of Jeff Davis against General Butler and the President's proclamation has the first effect to derange the programme upon which the exchanges of prisoners have heretofore taken place. The orders and threats of the great outlaw are directly in violation of the cartel, and the first impulse of the Government was to terminate all proceedings under it. It had been merely agreed to make a general exchange, including soldiers, political prisoners and sutlers; but until Davis shall satisfactorily explain his intentions, all commissioned officers in our hands will be retained, and only private and non-commissioned officers given up.

By Telegraph: We stop the press to say that a dispatch has been received at eleven today that we have a Glorious Victory at Murfreesboro, Texas; that Vicksburg is ours and the Rebels totally defeated!

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

During the year President Cleveland has pardoned 101 convicts. Arkansas was the most fortunate, securing the release of ten criminals.

It is declared from an official source that President Cleveland's gift of a copy of the Constitution of the United States to Pope Leo XIII, on the occasion of the golden jubilee of his ordination as priest, was suggested indirectly by the Holy Father himself. Fifty years ago, counting from Saturday next, Pope Leo XIII was ordained a priest of the Roman Catholic Church. The semi-centenary of this event was celebrated on Sunday, January 1st, as a golden jubilee, by not only the faithful of the Church, in the Great Basilica of St. Peter's, at Rome but by devout Catholics the world over. Not only has the President of the United States recognized the occasion, but the Sultan of Turkey has similarly recognized it by sending to His Holiness, by a special ambassador, a ring, valued at $50,000. The Queen of Protestant England has sent to Rome the most honored Duke of Norfolk as a special envoy and bearer of gracious messages and gifts to represent the majesty of England at the jubilee, and all the countries of the world have vied in

Today's Talk

FROM OUR FRIENDS

It is good that we are not all alike and that every friend draws from us something that particularly pleases and delights him or her alone.

In turn, we gain from our friends an added confidence and sympathy, a richer experience, all because that friend is able to arouse something in us for his or her own good as well as for ours.

From our friends we draw the inspiration to go on, to plan and to achieve. We should be as proud of our friends' reaction to all that we are as they should be to what we have that something within us to draw it out.

The business of friendship is cumulative. Ever it gathers momentum. Our friends are the motive power by which we strive, overcome difficulties, and mold what character we own and display.

The wounds from a friend heal slowly. The scars remain forever. Each of us a friendly circle into which we delight to invite those of kindred tastes and inclinations. Often this circle narrows to a very small area, but it never loses its influence upon our thought and conduct.

To make a new friend each year looks easy and wholly attainable — but that means 12 friends in a dozen years. How many have that number of friends, who remain sturdy and strong against all hazards of fate, even in a lifetime.

Friends have to be understood, even as we all have to, that the relationship may increase in beauty and not be allowed to rust and decay.

To be thrifty, to save for the rainy day, and to look to the future, as to money matters, is a very wise plan, but our happiness depends more upon our friends and the human relationships, than mere money accumulation. Therefore, he who would look forward to a life of happy contentment on the human side should keep his friendships close to him and in repair by every act of thoughtfulness and courtesy at his command.

Without our friends, to what reservoir would we go for a renewal of our hopes, our dreams, our aspirations, and our eternal faith.

LIFE'S BEST

It didn't seem like fun back then.

The fretting and the time of dread;

The vague, perplexing wondering when

We'd ever get a bit ahead;

The wishing for the things we'd spy

We couldn't quite afford to buy.

The garden then was very small

And difficult the grass to grow;

I wonder now of you recall

Those morning glories in a row

And that first climbing rose of ours

Which lined the fence with crimson flowers?

I talked of more and better things

When home my ship should come from sea;

With gowns of silk and jeweled rings

I thought that happier you'd be;

"Some day, some day that lies ahead

Life's best we'll know!" we often said.

But here we are along the way

And looking back today it seems

That we were happier yesterday

Pursuing all our golden dreams.

And strangely we have come to see

How pleasant care can grow to be.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

LOWER MARSH CREEK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, in company with many other colonial and provincial congregations in this state, boasts a somewhat controversial history.

In other words certain phases of their background are obscure and tradition and folklore can never take the place of historical fact and although clues can be obtained through these mediums — such data is always open to question. In this respect the Presbyterian Church of Lower Marsh Creek is no exception — there are gaps in its long history for which no facts can be obtained but, in the main, the background of this congregation is fairly well documented.

The frontier church of the Lower Marsh Creek played a rather important part in the history of what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, and some of its members were "part and parcel" of every important step made in the advancement of the section of what was, at the time this church was established, the far western frontier. Therefore at the very beginning of this account of the church and its old burial ground, the following notes on the history of its many years of service, is given in the hope that it will throw light on the how — why — and where.

SETTLED IN ADAMS

"About the years 1728 — 1736, a band of emigrants from Scotland and the North of Ireland, more usually known in the Province of Pennsylvania as the 'Scotch-Irish,' settled on the 'red lands' on the south-eastern part of York County. Not long afterwards these same people made the first settlement in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania — among the hills near the sources of Marsh Creek. These settlers were of a rather high order and brought with them the characteristics of their native land. They were moral, industrious and intelligent, and for the most part were rigid Presbyterians, or 'Seceders.' They were frugal, as the Scotch always are — plain in their mode of living but people of undaunted courage and high patriotic feeling.

"The manners and characters of these early settlers have been generally inherited by their descendants — many of them still cultivate the ancestral farms, worship in the same churches, and hold fast to the strict and venerated 'form of sound words' of the Presbyterian Church."

The following data pertaining to the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church was taken from the records of Presbytery — an unflattering source insofar as the history of Presbyterianism in the region of Marsh Creek is concerned.

NAMED TO PASTORATE

"In 1740 the Rev. Mr. Sankey was appointed to preach at Great Conewago and Marsh Creek, the second Sabbath of August; and Mr. Samuel Thompson the fifth Sabbath, 1742.

"Upon reading of the minutes of our last, relating to the Committee appointed to fix the site of a Meeting House at Marsh Creek, appeared Commissioners from both these places with supplications, signifying their acquiescence in the judgment of said Committee, viz: That it is expedient that there be two Meeting Houses, and that the people of Marsh Creek are agreed that their meeting house be at a certain spring, near Robert McPherson's."

Sometime after this the Rev. Mr. Robert Bay was called to take charge of the congregation at Marsh Creek, and was, in all probability, its first regular minister. Whether or not he was ever installed is not known. The congregation disapproved of Mr. Bay on certain moral and ethical grounds and he did not long remain their pastor. The Rev. Robert McMordie, Chaplain during the War of the American Revolution and charter member of the Order of the Cincinnati followed the Rev. Mr. Bay. His pastoral relations with the congregation were dissolved in 1761.

FIX BOUNDARY

In 1765 a paper was brought from Marsh Creek, Tom's, and Piney Creeks, respecting their having fixed the bounds between said congregations, which the Presbytery ordered to have entered on the record, and which is as follows: —

"We, the subscribers, commissioners of Marsh Creek, Tom's Creek, and Piney Creek congregations, having met this 25th day of April, 1765, in order to treat respecting the division lines between said congregations, have agreed, that a line being drawn straight from Marsh Creek Meeting House to that of Tom's Creek, a line crossing that line at right angles, at the end of four miles and a half from Marsh Creek Meeting House, and extended on the one side to Tom's Creek, and on the other until it intersect Piney Creek congregation, shall be the division line between said congregations; and that the division line between Marsh Creek and that of Piney Creek, shall be midway between the Meeting Houses of said congregations. Witness our hands this day and year above written.

"John Alexander, Samuel McFarren, William Shields, Andrew Hart, William Cochran, John McKinley, James McGinley and William Porter."

ORDAIN REV. SLEMMONS

The Rev. John Slemmons was ordained and installed pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek congregation in 1765, and dismissed in 1774. He was removed by death on July 10, 1814, and his remains lie buried in the Piney Creek Churchyard.

After this, in 1779, the congregation of Lower Marsh Creek entered into an agreement with the Rev. Mr. Martin for one year of his labors, to which agreement Presbytery acceded.

In 1781, a "supplication having been brought in by William Finley and James Ferguson, commissioners from the Lower Marsh Creek congregation," asked that they might have leave to join with Tom's Creek. This request was granted by Presbytery.

The Rev. Mr. John McKnight became pastor of this charge (Lower Marsh Creek and Tom's Creek) in 1783 and continued to be so until 1787. The call for the Rev. McKnight was accompanied by a guarantee, with subscription papers, amounting to 180 pounds Marsh Creek agreeing to pay 85 pounds. In addition each of the two congregations agreed to pay a gratuity of 50 bushels of wheat upon Mr. McKnight's acceptance of the call. Mr. McKnight was a very popular preacher, and both congregations felt his loss when he accepted a call to be a colleague of the Rev. Dr. John Rodgers, pastor of the United Presbyterian Churches of New York City.

The history of Lower Marsh Creek Church and cemetery will be continued next week.

"HAZEL FLAG" REVIVES

NEW YORK (AP) — An off-Broadway revival is planned for the musical "Hazel Flag" this season, just 10 years after its brief run on the Great White Way.

The show, written by Ben Hecht and with music by Jule Styne, was based on the film "Nothing Sacred." The original company included Helen Gallagher, Benay Venuta and Thomas Mitchell. Casting for the new version has not yet been disclosed.

CLARK, SCOTT SUPPORT END OF FILIBUSTER

Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D., and Hugh Scott, R., can be counted on to support any move to eliminate filibusters in the new session of Congress.

Clark intends to introduce Wednesday, or as soon thereafter as possible, a resolution to establish a joint committee on organization of Congress.

The proposed committee would look into the problems of procedure in both houses with a view toward making Congress more efficient. Eliminating time-consuming filibusters, Clark believes, could be one way of speeding up congressional operations.

SEEK REVISION

Meanwhile, Scott said he too will do everything he can to secure revision of Senate rule 22 which provides that debate can be limited only if two-thirds of the membership present votes for it.

Scott contends that permitting filibusters to develop slows up action not only on civil rights measures—where it has been most evident through the years—but also consideration of other legislation.

Clark introduced his resolution for a study of congressional organization in the waning days of the last Congress, but only as a sort of trial balloon. He was aware it could not achieve passage at that late date.

21 COSPONSORS

Even at that, however, the resolution picked up 21 cosponsors reaching across political party lines.

This time Clark is more hopeful of Senate passage. A Clark aide said the measure already has the support of both party whips—Sens. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat, and Thomas Kuchel, California Republican.

On what is regarded as one of the prime issues before the new congress — President Kennedy's proposed tax cut—Clark has taken no announced stand as yet. An aide pointed out that no specific program has yet been offered by the President.

Scott already has said he favors a tax cut, but wants at least a part of it provided for by reduction of expenditures.

STATE TO ACT ON POPULATION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The state legislature will probably act this year to realign legislative districts to conform to population changes, the Philadelphia Bulletin says.

The newspaper said Sunday in a dispatch from Harrisburg that the reapportionment may be the "real volcano of the current session . . . instead of the highly touted battle over school reorganization."

Its survey of 50 legislators, the newspaper said, "indicates the battle certainly will take the traditional lines—rural vs. urban."

Philadelphia will probably be forced to give up four house seats, the newspaper said, and suburban Delaware and Montgomery counties should each gain one.

The newspaper said that some legislators feel the state Senate, constitutionally limited to 30 senators, may also be forced to re-apportion seats on the basis of population, as the House is required to do by the state constitution.

The Senate was last reappointed in 1921; the House in 1953.

EVANS WILL BE PAROLED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Thomas J. Evans, a 78-year-old former turnpike commissioner who was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the Commonwealth and was sentenced to two-to-four years in prison will be paroled Jan. 23.

Paul J. Gernert, chairman of the state Parole Board, said Saturday he found Evans met all the requirements for parole after an interview with him last month.

Evans has been confined in Harrisburg Hospital since March of 1961 because of heart trouble. He was one of the four major figures convicted in the 1957 scandal over a $9.5 million contract awarded to the defunct Manu-Mines Research and Development Co. for fill work on the northeast extension of the toll road.

Manu-Mines was headed by Evans' nephew, Charles W. Stickler of Reading, who also received a jail sentence for his part in the swindle.

Bullets Trounce Lehigh 72-51 Behind Strouse, Koerner; Frosh Triumph

Another outstanding performance by Ted Koerner, with the help of Sophomore George Strouse, paved the way for Gettysburg's third straight basketball victory as the Bullets walloped Lehigh 72-51 Saturday night on the Engineers' court in an MAC battle.

Koerner rammed through 10 goals on 20 attempts and hit on five of seven free throws for 25 points. Strouse, who was just released from the college infirmary Friday, ripped through eight goals on 17 tries and connected on five of eight fouls for 21 points. The Norwich, Conn., native was also runner-up in the rebounds department with 12. Roger Gaackler pulled in 13 rebounds.

Dave Usilton and John Thomas were the only Engineers to hit double figures as Usilton landed 12 while Thomas hit for 10. Phil Bulliner, 6'6" Sophomore, grabbed 14 rebounds.

Lehigh got off to a quick start when 6'8" center Jack Air cashed in on a three-point play with 34 seconds gone by in the game. Gaackler hit from the corner for the Bullets as the 18-20 mark. Lehigh continued to roll and led 8-3 at 16:30. The Engineers maintained a slight margin until 8:40 when Don Szegda landed a jump from the left side to knot the count 18-18. Thirty seconds later Strouse swished one from the corner and Koerner added a jump from the key to give Gettysburg a 22-18 edge, a lead it never lost.

GETTYSBURG PULLS AWAY
Lehigh pulled to within a 23-23 situation with 3:32 remaining in the half, but the Bullets poured it on to close out the half with 10 straight points and led 38-23 at intermission. Bob Hulton's cagers continued to increase their lead throughout the second half to top their fifth win against two setbacks.

The loss gives Lehigh a 3-10 record on the season. The Engineers are 1-4 in the conference while Gettysburg is now 3-1.

A pair of make-shift officials didn't seem to bother the Bullets as they rolled over the Lehigh youngsters 85-67 in the preliminary contest. The regular officials scheduled to work the game did not show up, so by mutual agreement of both coaches two Lehigh employees took over the tough task. The victory marked the fifth in six outings for John Carpenter's yearlings.

Bob Morris and Dave Yates topped the Little Bullets' order with 19 and 15 points, respectively. Mike Feinberg scored 17 for Lehigh. Gettysburg had a good night in the field shooting department, landing 33 of 70 shots. Carpenter utilized his entire bench through the game.

FACE HOPKINS
The Bullet varsity will tangle with Johns Hopkins Wednesday night in Baltimore. The Freshmen will be idle until Saturday when they meet Lebanon Valley here in the preliminary to the varsity tilt.

NCAA STAND ON KENNEDY PLEA LIKELY TODAY

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Emphasis in the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention swings back to the new sports federations today amid indications the official NCAA stand on President Kennedy's arbitration plea in the feud with the Amateur Athletic Union may come before the day is out.

The federal government has been sounding out the powerful NCAA on the chances of progress in settlement or mediation of the raging dispute over the administration of track and field in the United States.

The Associated Press learned there has been exchange of telegrams between the White House and the NCAA in the last two days. The NCAA is waiting only for release of the reply in Washington to state its position.

REPLY TO WIRE
Nick Rodis, the State Department official who sat in with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on the formulation of the abortive coalition plan for track and field in the New York "truce meeting" two months ago, has been here for two days talking to collegiate leaders and coaches about arranging several baseball tours in Latin America.

He also was handed the NCAA reply to a White House wire requesting the colleges' position on President Kennedy's suggestion that the sports dispute be submitted to binding arbitration under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The AAU has agreed to mediate the dispute with the NCAA. The NCAA-supported U.S. Track and Federation has agreed to arbitrate with the AAU. The AAU says it will not enter into negotiations with the federation, which it considers a puppet organization of the NCAA. The NCAA has said it will not enter into arbitration individually since it is only one of several charter members of the federation.

cago Cubs) was on first," said Gelbert. "Someone got a hit right. I covered third and on the play he (Hornsby) tried to fool me on the slide.

"Instead of going straight ahead on a regular slide he tried to stop and change directions. When he did, his spike caught and he broke a bone in his ankle. That was the last regular game he played. That put him out the rest of the season as far as playing. He did some pinchhitting later on."

Gelbert said Hornsby's death Saturday "was quite a shock."

"I knew he had been sick but not that bad," Gelbert said.

RED RAIDERS WIN 1ST GAME

St. Francis Xavier Parochial School's dribblers won their first game after three losses by defeating Immaculate Conception of New Oxford 42-13 Sunday afternoon on the Delone High School floor.

Led by their sharp-shooting guard, Mike Baker, who tallied 22 points, the Red Raiders were never in trouble. With Baker and John Flynn scoring 22 points between them in the first half, the Raiders took a 25-8 lead at half time. After intermission Coach Ron McClell substituted freely and allowed the reserves to play most of the second half. Charlie Hockensmith led the losers with seven points, five of which were from the foul line.

The local jayvees also won the preliminary 11-10 after falling behind 6-0. Bobby Waganman's four points were high for the Raiders.

Next Sunday the Xavier School dribblers travel to Littlestown to meet St. Aloysius in another league doubleheader.

CINCINNATI WINS 29TH; GOING STRONG

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
If there is such a thing as a psychological barrier, the University of Cincinnati never has heard of it.

The Bearcats' basketball winning streak stands at 29 games and by the end of the week, it should reach 31. They have two fairly easy Missouri Valley Conference opponents as their next opposition—North Texas State Thursday and Tulsa Saturday.

Coach Ed Jucker's two-time NCAA champions polished off Wichita, 63-50, Saturday night for No. 29 in a row. No. 11 this season and No. 66 without a defeat on their home court.

DOUBLE OVERTIME
In the Southeastern Conference, it's beginning to look as though perennial power Kentucky, going for its 21st league title, might be ready to be had. The Wildcats dropped their opener to Georgia Tech in a double-overtime chiller Saturday, 86-85, on Mike Tomasovich and R. D. Craddock in the closing seconds.

Mississippi State, co-champion with Kentucky last year, whipped Auburn, 62-53. That one knocked the Tigers from the unbeaten list.

In the Big Six, UCLA, which almost upset Cincinnati in the NCAA semifinals last year, is squarely behind the eight ball. The Bruins fell twice to Washington over the weekend, 62-61 Friday and 67-63 Saturday.

CALIFORNIA WINS 2
Poor relation California, which occupied the basement last year, turned back Southern California twice over the weekend, 72-65 and 78-69.

The case of the Big Ten could be settled right off tonight when Ohio State visits Illinois. Both are 9-1 for the season and 1-0 in the league. The Buckeyes had a gosh-awful time squeezing past Minnesota 78-76 in their opener Saturday. Illinois rolled to an 85-76 decision over Iowa.

In the Southwest Conference all is confusion. Texas A&M and Texas lead with 2-0 records. The Tigers turned back Texas Tech 60-53 Saturday and Texas downed Arkansas 69-63. Southern Methodist, which had looked like a real toughie, is 0-2 after being whaled by lowly Baylor, 62-59.

HARADA WILL MEET CHAMP

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Three months after he started the boxing world by dethroning heavily favored Pone Kingpetch, 19-year-old Fighting Harada of Japan will try to prove his knock-out victory was no fluke by taking on the veteran Thaiander in a return fight.

The freshly-crowned world fly-weight champion will meet the 26-year-old Pone this Saturday night and in the ex-champion's home town of Bangkok.

Let's Look At The Record

INDIA VS. PAKISTAN
Passive Resistance Pays Off For Nehru
Pakistanian Fears Are Justified

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Lavish promises of military aids to India with the reverse promise from Nehru that none of it ever be used against Pakistan is about all the Harriman mission to South Asia has accomplished thus far.

The Kashmir problem between India and Pakistan is as far from being settled as it ever was. There are reports of Mr. Harriman having talked tough to Nehru on the Kashmir question.

But Nehru appears to have gone into the early phase of his passive resistance act that he learned so well from Gandhi.

It consists of a sad, quiet, pacifistic but sufficiently loud "No" to be heard around the world.

This is eventually followed by a posture of kill-me-if-you-like, you nonphilosophical, materialistic brute, but the answer will always be — No.

The final act consists of going into a martyrdom hunger strike against continuance of the subject.

Nehru is far short of the hunger strike phase as of now, but he will come to it before he concedes Kashmir to Pakistan, which he stole for India in the first instance.

AMERICA may find it necessary to make a brutal choice between Pakistan and India. The hatreds between them often transcend their fears of the Chinese.

Moreover, the fertile vale of Kashmir is a far more worthwhile prize for fighting over than all the mountainous real estate China has grabbed thus far.

With a much shorter frontier toward China, the Pakistanians have much less to fear from that direction than they have had from India. China is making firm overtures to Pakistan.

It is easy for American and English advisors to tell Pakistan that China cannot be trusted.

It is much easier for the Pakistanians to believe America cannot be trusted.

WHEN America organized the Southeastern Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), India had the most powerful army in that region. It had been inherited, fully organized, trained and equipped by the English. India's membership in the alliance was eagerly sought.

Nehru would have none of it. He began his role as the Great Neutral.

Nehru and Menon used their temporary advantage in military power to overawe Pakistan in general and on the Kashmir question in particular.

The Indian Army also came in handy for squelching any secession tendency within any of the Indian states. It reached the peak in this direction in ruthlessly dispossessing Portugal of her tiny, trade enclaves on the Indian coast.

And Portugal was a member of the American alliance, the Pakistanians noted.

IN CONTRAST, Pakistan was one of the first to join SEATO and thereby became allied with America, as was Portugal in NATO.

Pakistan sought American help and guidance. She built up her Army and used it as a frontier, protective force rather than as a domestic, political instrument, which explains the Indian Army's deterioration.

Pakistan has stood firmly with the West on every issue.

Now that Nehru's passive resistance technique has not worked against China, he is asking and is promised by Mr. Harriman more and better arms than Pakistan has received in her 15 years of alliance with America.

Such will be India's needs if her army is expanded to the two million men her Parliament is now demanding of Nehru.

Need one wonder that Pakistan is worried, perturbed and disposed to treat with China She saw America sell Portugal down the river to Nehru.

ALL OF WHICH leaves the Pakistanians wondering what there is about passive resistance diplomacy that does so much for India with the West.

It is a good question. Americans and Englishmen appear to fear a hunger strike from an Indian leader more than they value the friendship of a trusted ally.

What puzzles Nehru is the failure of passive resistance on the Chinese. They are the original, nonmaterialistic philosophers.

MEXICANS SEIZE RANCHES

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Hundreds of squatters, reportedly recruited from interior Mexico, seized five large ranches in the northern part of the Mexican state of Chihuahua Friday, the El Paso Times reported Saturday.

Col. Jaime Juarez Munoz, chief of staff of the 5th Military Zone in Chihuahua, told the Times that federal troops were awaiting orders to move into the affected areas, situated about 100 miles south of El Paso.

The seizures, declared illegal by the acting governor of Chihuahua, Saul Gonzalez Herrera, were led by Jacinto Lopez, secretary general of the Union Nacional de Obreros y Campesinos (national farmers and laborers union). The organization has been agitating throughout Mexico for land expropriation.

The land grab movement, which has been in the making for several months, also spread to Chihuahua's neighboring state of Durango. Reports from there said squatters had already seized the famous hacienda of Canutillo, which once was owned by Pancho Villa.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

CURVES WANTED. A teen lovely writes: I am almost 14 and have two problems a girl my age shouldn't have. My legs are thin and straight as sticks. My big brother calls me "Spindles." It's revolting. Please help me solve both problems.

The Answer: Let's start with your legs. They are easier to "fix" than a big brother.

The sure way to build up the legline is spot-increasing exercise. Here are two routines with plumping power aplenty: 1. Sit erect on floor with legs outstretched, so that only heels touch floor. Slowly pull toes and foot backward, as far as possible—hold for a slow count of five. Relax and repeat 10 times.

2. Stand facing a wall—about three inches from it—with feet together and toes pointing straight ahead. Bend knees very slightly and gradually twist them apart until they touch wall. Relax and repeat 10 times.

If you perform exactly as instructed and never miss a day, results will begin to take shape in about two months. Beware of trying to hasten the outcome by increasing your performance. Overexertion would only defeat your purpose.

Now about your brother: As improvements begin to show, either he will stop teasing you or you won't mind. That will be the day!

CURVE FOR THE LEGLINE

If your loveliness problem is thin, shapeless legs, send for my booklet, MORE CURVE FOR THE LEGLINE. It shows how to build up contours with spot-increasing exercise. The booklet also includes your ideal leg measurements and tips on a graceful stance as well as flattering footwear. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

GOP PLANS TO CURB FOREIGN AID SPENDING

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has signaled a GOP drive in the new Congress to hold the economy line against President Kennedy's domestic and foreign spending programs.

Such presidential proposals as federal aid to education and the financing of health care for the elderly through an increase in Social Security taxes probably will be turned down again, Dirksen told reporters Friday.

On Kennedy's plans for a tax reduction, Dirksen indicated most Republicans would take the position he and House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck hold: There should be no cut unless spending is slashed.

On the foreign aid front, Dirksen foresaw deep trouble ahead for the aid program. These difficulties, he said, will be compounded by the expected submission by Kennedy of a $99-billion budget.

OPPOSED BY PUBLIC

"I think the temper of the country is turning against foreign aid," Dirksen said. "The people don't see any real results from it. They are getting tired of pouring money into a program they don't think is effective."

Dirksen indicated he has no intention of joining with Democratic

SENATOR KERR IS BURIED AT SIMPLE RITES

By GAYLORD SHAW

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma's homespun statesman, was laid to rest Friday in simple rites attended by a saddened President Kennedy and other national leaders.

Kennedy dabbed his eyes as he sat in a front row pew, a few feet from Kerr's rose-draped coffin. He was flanked by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Oklahoma's Gov. J. Howard Edmondson. Behind them were a Senate delegation of 28, several congressmen, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, generals, admirals and a host of other state and national officials.

MANY MOURNERS

The bronze coffin, surrounded by scores of wreaths and flower sprays, was not opened during the services. An organ played softly, but there was no choir. About 2,000 mourners filled the First Baptist Church and hundreds of others stood outside in a steady, cold rain.

Kerr, 66, died Tuesday in Washington of a heart attack. He was serving his third term in the Senate and was considered one of its most influential members.

He was eulogized by his Baptist pastor, Dr. Herchel Hobbs, as a man who rose from humble beginnings on an Oklahoma cotton farm to become one of the nation's most powerful men because of his vision, wisdom, courage and faith.

PRIVATE RITES

Kennedy walked quickly from the church and joined the Kerr family in a motorcade to Rose Hill Mausoleum, where the body was interred during private rites attended by 120 persons. The body will be moved later to Ada, in south central Oklahoma, where a memorial is planned near the log cabin where Kerr was born.

The President was whisked to Tinker Air Force Base and the return flight to Palm Beach, Fla. His arrival in the presidential jet for the funeral turned out to be a race against drizzle and fog that later halted all plane landings.

FIRST FAMILY WILL HAVE BUSY INAUGURAL DAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — There will be little rest for the Scrantons on Jan. 15.

That's Inauguration Day and the Pennsylvania inaugural committee released a schedule Friday that has the governor-elect and his wife on the move from 10:15 a.m. to almost midnight.

Highlight of the day will be the swearing-in ceremonies, scheduled for 12:08 p.m. at the spacious State Farm Show Arena.

At this time, William W. Scranton officially becomes Pennsylvania's 103rd governor.

The before and after is jammed packed with related events, including the inauguration of Lt. Gov.-elect Raymond P. Shafer; a meeting with outgoing Gov. David L. Lawrence; inaugural ceremonies; an address by Scranton; the inaugural parade; swearing-in of a new cabinet members, and a dinner honoring the Scrantons.

$12.50 BALL TICKETS

Tickets for the ball are priced at $12.50 apiece. Music will be provided by the Howard Lanin Orchestra of Philadelphia.

"Reports from every section of the state indicate the 1963 program will be representative of Republicans everywhere who worked so hard to put William Scranton in the governor's office," said Lt. Gen. Milton G. Baker, committee chairman.

Key events on the schedule: 10:15 a.m.—Scrantons leave hotel.

10:30 a.m.—Inauguration of Shafer in the Senate chamber.

10:50 a.m.—Scranton meets Lawrence in the executive office.

12 noon—Inaugural ceremonies begin in State Farm Show Arena.

12:08 p.m.—Swearing in 12:12 p.m.—Address by Scranton.

2 p.m.—Inaugural parade, downtown Harrisburg

4 p.m.—Cabinet members sworn in

7 p.m.—Inaugural committee dinner in honor of Scrantons

9 p.m.—Inaugural ball, Zembo Mosque.

leader Mike Mansfield of Montana in offering a compromise rules change when Senate liberals launch an effort to ease the Senate debate limitation requirement.

Dirksen also told the reporters, meeting with him in his office on his 67th birthday, that he and Halleck expect to resume weekly news conferences shortly to point up their party's differences with the Democratic administration.

For economy reasons the National Republican Finance Committee has cut off the funds to finance staff operations for the conferences, widely known as the "Ev and Charlie Show." Dirksen said, however, he anticipates no difficulty in getting the money elsewhere.

3 Top FM Radio Stations Called To Secret Hearing

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) —

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee isn't saying why it is investigating three award-winning, nonprofit FM radio stations in New York and California.

All that is known is that at least seven persons are to appear at a secret session in Washington next Thursday.

The seven either have appeared on or are connected with FM radio stations KPFA, Berkeley; KPFF, Los Angeles; and WBAI, New York. The stations are operated by the Pacifica Foundation, which runs its noncommercial programming through money donated by listeners.

PROFESSOR SUBPOENAED

Among the subpoenaed is Dr. Peter H. Odegard, political science professor at the University of California, former consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, former assistant to the secretary of the Treasury, and former president of Reed College in Portland, Ore. He is a foundation director.

Others include Trevor Thomas, acting president of the foundation; Jerome Shore, executive vice president; Harry Plotkin of Washington, D.C., foundation attorney; Dorothy Ray Healey, Southern California Communist party chairman, who has a semiweekly 15-minute commentary program on KPFF; Catherine Corey Gumpert of North Hollywood, former KPFF manager; and Pauline Schindler of Los Angeles, widow of architect Rudolph Schindler.

Thomas told a news conference Friday that the programs by Miss Healey could be a prime reason for the hearing.

SPECULATE ON REASON

Ernest Besig, executive director of the Northern California chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union and a member of the foundation's board, said the investigation might be because of a recent broadcast, critical of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, by former FBI agent Jack Levine.

Thomas said the stations' broadcasts include "the extremes of right and left, making sure also to cover everything in between." He added, "As broadcasters, we hold the right of the people, our subscribers and listeners, to hear all opinion; to evaluate, to reject or accept of their own free will."

KPFA was the recipient last May of awards for excellence and merit from the California Associated Press Radio-Television Association. In 1960 KPFA won a California State Fair medal for its report on hearings and student demonstrations before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in San Francisco in 1960. The San Francisco board of supervisors praised the Pacifica Foundation last April.

Littlestown WILL INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Newly-elected Sunday School officers of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and church councilmen will be installed during the service Sunday at 10:30 a.m. There will be an organizational meeting of the new church council Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the church following the worship service of the preaching mission. The Intermediate Choir will rehearse this evening at 6:30 o'clock and the Junior Choir will rehearse at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Committee chairmen are requested to get their reports into the office for the yearbook.

Services of Holy Communion were held in St. Paul's Church Sunday. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Lawrence H. Roller. The Old Testament lesson was read. An anthem was sung by the choir.

SERVICES BEGIN

The annual preaching mission series of informal worship services, sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium, opened last evening. The service was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church with approximately 200 persons in attendance. Youth Night was observed and the youth groups from the various community churches were present in a body.

The Rev. Dr. Lawrence D. Folkemer, professor of theology at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, guest speaker for the mission, delivered a sermon on the theme "Decision." He told the congregation of the capacity to make decisions and the necessity to be able to out think others today as Christians were able to out think pagans. In his message the Rev. Dr. Folkemer emphasized that Christ is paramount and material possessions are unimportant.

Liturgy for the service was the Rev. Lawrence H. Roller, pastor of the host church. He read the scripture and part of the sermon on the Mount. St. Paul's Senior Choir led the congregational singing and sang an anthem, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Karl P. Bankert. The offering was received by St. Paul's Church ushers.

The Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ, will be liturgist for the preaching mission service this evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Church. The Rev. Dr. Folkemer will speak on the subject "Growth," and on Tuesday, "Concern." The Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ United Church of Christ, will preside on Tuesday. The ministerium and the mission speaker will be in charge of the assembly program at the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School Wednesday afternoon.

PLAN SPOT CHECKS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley warns truck and bus operators their daily driver logs will be spot checked to see if any are driving while under license suspension.

Shipley, in a weekend statement, cautioned the drivers the logs are admissible as court evidence.

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Martin Reports On Keystone Shortway

HARRISBURG (AP) — Some $60.9 million has been committed since 1958 for the construction of 63 miles of the Keystone Shortway, Highways Secretary Park H. Martin reports.

Fourteen of the 63 miles already are in use—in sections of Monroe, Clarion and Jefferson Counties—Martin said in a week-end statement.

The remaining 48.3 miles are under construction, he added.

The $60.9 million, Martin noted, does not include over $5 million in engineering expenditures and millions of dollars in the acquisition of land.

RADAR REPEAL EFFORTS ARE BEING SET UP

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legalized radar may once again rise to controversial heights during the 1963 session of the General Assembly.

Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) said Sunday he and three of his GOP colleagues are gathering some preliminary statistics which may culminate in an attempt to repeal the law legalizing radar as a speed detection device on state highways.

Wade, however, admits the move "hasn't gone very far" as yet.

WADE WAS OPPONENT

"We're just gathering some statistics," he said.

The effort, he explained, is being made to determine if radar was effective last year in reducing highway accidents in Pennsylvania.

Wade was a vigorous opponent of radar when the 1961 legislature legalized its use on Pennsylvania roads after long debate on the issue.

Radar went into effect in September of that year and Gov. Lawrence, since then, frequently has called it a major item in his highway safety program.

CLAIMS DEATHS NOT CUT

Wade, however, still questions its value.

He said his foursome understands the device did not reduce the state fatality toll last year.

No statistics have been released as yet on the state's fatality record for 1962.

It is understood the figures are in the governor's hands and will be made public this week.

Wade said he thought the governor's office would have released the figures earlier if they "were favorable."

"OPEN-MINDED"

Senate majority leader James S. Berger (R-Potter) said from his Coudersport home Sunday night that all he knew about the situation was what he read in the newspapers.

Commenting on radar in general, he said:

Cossacks are a pastoral people who developed a warlike way of life. Their name derives from a Turkish word meaning adventurer or disturber of the peace.

In southern China the Salween, Mekong and Yangtze rivers follow parallel canyons only a few dozen miles apart before fanning out to distant seas.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to satisfy everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are at least 18 scalp conditions that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just fill out and send them the information listed below.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — You can get an argument over whether Salvador Dali, the eccentric artist, is an obsessed genius or merely a talented poseur.

Dali himself says the question has been settled to his own satisfaction.

"A French doctor spent seven years studying whether I am crazy or not," he remarked. "He find I 'ave one of the best organized brains that exist in the world.'"

PUBLISHING BOOK

The 58-year-old Spanish-born

painter, accompanied by his wife, Gala, is here for the publication of a book of his art and to make his second lecture tour in a decade.

"The last time I speak no English—an' it was a tremendous success," he said.

"Now that my speech is a little too much good—maybe not so much a success. People like mystery."

FASCINATED BY LIFE

The mystery of life always has fascinated Dali, who, for all his Barnum-like showmanship stunts, is regarded by some critics as probably the greatest religious artist of the 20th century.

"Everything in life leads to one idea—faith," he said. "At first I was interested in psychoanalysis, then in the theory of relativity and nuclear physics."

"Now I am obsessed with biology, molecular structure, cybernetics, thinking machines. But every science is connected by art."

"NEW RENAISSANCE"

"Since the French Revolution every generation 'ave been skeptical—it believe only in materialism. But today everything is au contraire."

"Scientific people believe in God, and realize that matter is only energy."

"Material things disappear. We live now in a crisis of mysticism. Everything is metaphysical. We are in a new renaissance of religion—and a reunification of religions."

Why does Dali indulge in stunts such as delivering a lecture in a diving suit?

BLAMES COMPLEX

"I am very exhibitionistic," he admitted. "But it 'ave help me tremendously. Everybody think of me day and night—an' without interruption."

Then he explained that his weird actions were the result of a complex arising from the death at the age of 7 of a brilliant older brother, also named Salvador.

"It produce in me a tremendous anguish to prove that I am not my dead brother but myself," he said.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Pope John XXIII have exchanged New Year's greetings, a Vatican source said Saturday.

A message by Khrushchev wishing Pope John a happy 1963 was delivered to the Vatican through the Soviet Embassy to Italy.

The pontiff's reply was in Latin. Officials declined to reveal the text of the two greetings.
